Hours Reporting

What
IMIT is a aware of a non-delivery issue affecting some medical staff who are submitting hours reporting documents to Physician_Comp@islandhealth.ca

Why
IMIT implements robust firewall and spam filter rules. Non-delivery can occur when employees send emails to an Island Health email address from an external email provider, like Gmail or Yahoo.

Solutions

- Please use your Island Health email address to send emails and attachments to Physician_Comp@islandhealth.ca
- You will always receive an auto response from Physician_Comp@islandhealth.ca acknowledging receipt of your email. If you do not receive an auto response, the Compensation team did not receive your email
- If you suspect an on-going issue with email delivery to Physician_Comp@islandhealth.ca, you can reach out to Colleen Frame, Financial Assistant, on 250-755-7691 (x52283) to follow up

Nominations for this year's BC Quality Awards close on June 30th. Presented annually by Health Quality BC, the awards celebrate the people and projects that are improving the quality of care in our province. Submit your nominations HERE. And yes, you CAN nominate yourself and your own team.

Research Grants, Agreements, and Financial Management

Medical staff who plan to submit research grants or engage in research projects must contact the Research department to ensure Island Health policies are followed. All staff are required to complete a Notice of Intent prior to submitting a research grant application. This helps us connect you with the right people and departments, develop your budget, and request letters of support on your behalf. All agreements and special purpose funds (SPFs) are administered by Research.

Research is grateful for your cooperation and is keen to support you in establishing the best process for your research agreements and funding. For more information, please reach out to Dawn Waterhouse, Research Business Manager.
