Certified Assessment Credits

Certified Assessment credits can be claimed via “Linking Learning to Practice” through receipt of feedback for self directed learning on your practice

Certified Assessment credits can be claimed via “Linking Learning to Assessment” through reviewing clinical practice guidelines

Certified Assessment credits can be claimed via “Linking Learning to Administration” through committee participation

Each completed Linking Learning exercise is eligible for five Mainpro+ Certified Assessment credits.

There is no limit to the number of exercises you can complete in a cycle. For each activity use the on-line Linking Learning form:

- Describe the learning activity
- Consider the information that was presented during the activity
- Critically appraise the information provided by using additional resources
- Make a decision about your practice based the new information
- Evaluate the impact of your decision

Non-certified credits

Time spent reviewing your data can be claimed under non-certified activities.
